

Michael English Director

New York Office
212.249.6600
menglish@tiholdings.com

As Director, Michael English focuses on Underwriting, Real Estate Development, and Construction Management. Mr. English has 20 years of development, construction and design experience. He has worked as a civil/structural engineer, construction manager and developer for nationally recognized firms. The primary focus of his development experience has been in for-sale and rental multifamily developments and retail.

Prior Experience

Prior to joining Taurus of New York, Mr. English was an Assistant Vice President of Development for Tarragon Corporation, a publicly traded development company specializing in home building and merchant building of apartment buildings. Reporting directly to the President, his role included managing all phases of the ground-up development of urban and suburban developments. Prior to Tarragon, Mr. English was a Development Associate for Lincoln Property Company, a nationally recognized developer of multi-family properties. Prior to working in real estate development, Mr. English worked with URS Corporation as a construction and program manager. Prior to working in construction management, Mr. English was a civil/structural engineer with Burns and Roe, designing all structural and geotechnical components of industrial, institutional and transportation facilities.

Education

Columbia University, BS Civil Engineering
Stevens Institute of Technology, MS Civil Engineering
Columbia University, MS Real Estate Development

Other

Licensed Professional Engineer
Licensed Real Estate Broker